Local Notes.

There will be work in the Thirteenth degree at the Masonic lodge Tuesday night.

Those supplied with skates had little difficulty in getting to church Sunday.

Much fencing has been stolen during the cold spell. Its nothing unusual for property owners to find several planks missing.

Aside from placing a license of fifty dollars upon merchant tailors, the City Council did nothing of consequence Monday night.

The streets being almost impassable on account of ice, there were no services at the churches Sunday night. Hardly a corporal's guard attended the day services.

The heavy sleet of Sunday and Sunday night caused many roofs to leak and some damage was done. Tin and the old-fashioned wooden shingle roofs both proved unequal to the occasion.

Those people living on the rural routes appreciate Uncle Sam's kindness more than ever during the miserable weather. The leaving of your mail at your front door these cold days is a convenience, indeed.

The big religious revival at Danville resulted in great good. Many old frostbitten, Sunday only church members were awakened to their duties, and many were the resolutions to put into practice during the week what is professed on Sunday.

Yes, Verily.

An exchange says the people who remain away from church services on the pretense of the weather being too cold will no doubt "butt in" to some extent in the near future that will afford them all the warmth they want—and possibly more.

A Bad Time For Fire.

A small blaze in the kitchen of Zimmer's restaurant caused an alarm about six o'clock Sunday night. Notwithstanding the fact that the pavements and streets were one solid sheet of ice, the hose wagon was out and ready for work in less than three minutes. The flames were extinguished without use of the fire hose. Damage small.

Country Residence Burned.

The residence of Mr. Joseph Burnside, on the Kirksville pike, was destroyed by fire Friday morning. The fire was not discovered until the entire upper portion was burning, and the family had barely time enough to get out. All the contents were burned, nothing being saved. Mrs. John M. Farra, who was at her mother's suffering from rheumatism, was carried to a neighbor's and suffered greatly by being taken into the cold air. The property loss falls heavily on the family, and their legion of friends extend deepest sympathy to them.

A Big Temperance Revival.

The Lancaster W. C. T. U. has completed arrangements for a series of temperance lectures to be given in this city, beginning next Monday night, the 13th. These meetings will be held in the different churches, the final rally to be held in the Court House. The Union has secured the services of the noted lecturer, Col. Charles Holt, of Chicago, whose ability and eloquence have won for him a national reputation. All the singers of the town will take part, and a glorious revival is looked for, together with much good by the adding of new converts to the side of temperance. Remember the time of beginning, Monday, the 13th, and tell your neighbors about it.

It is the general belief among those high in Republican circles that President Roosevelt will either give the Hon. John W. Yerkes a place in this new cabinet or appoint him a judge of the United States Supreme Court. This belief is founded upon the fact that the President has proven his assertion that he would appoint none but good men, and that he is well acquainted with Mr. Yerkes ability and Remember the Valentine party at W. C. T. U., rooms Friday night, the 17th.

A solid sheet of ice, from one to two inches thick, covered the streets for several days.

Two negro boys were given work-house sentences for loafing at the depot. Keep up the good work.

The W. C. T. U., Valentine party, at their rooms, Friday night, the 17th, will be largely attended. Only 15c admission fee will be charged.

Its about time for the "early" gardeners to begin to brag about their truck patches. Ice, snow and zero weather cut no figure with this class of boosters.

The Daughters of the Confederacy will meet with Mrs. Alex Doty next Monday afternoon at two o'clock. It is the regular meeting and a full attendance is desired.

Valentine Party.

The W. C. T. U. will give a Valentine party at their rooms on the evening of the 17th. Tutti-fruite and cake will be served. A post office and valentines will furnish fun for all who come. Only 15c will be charged. 2t.

Tuesday night, a horse belonging to Frank Pearce, and driven to Paint Lick by Mr. Robt. West, the hemp man, broke loose at that place, wandered on the railroad track and was killed by the No. 11 passenger train.

Appointment of Lancaster Man.

Mr. Wm. B. Stone, one of Lancaster's most energetic and popular young gentlemen, has been appointed in the Railway Mail Service, and will be put on a "run" in a few days. He passed the civil service examination, receiving very high averages.

A Genius.

Ivon Fish, L. and N., agent at Rowland, has made one of the new-fashioned "slide-switch" telegraph keys, so extensively advertised in the electrical journals. It does the same work and answers the same purposes as the one advertised as a wrist-saver, and is a splendid piece of workmanship. Mr. Fish, who lives in Stanford, has purchased one of the new-style railroad propelling machines, which runs over the road as easily as a bicycle on a smooth road. He uses it in going between work and home and travels almost as fast as the passenger trains.

Death Of A Good Lady.

Mrs. Catharine D. Waits, whose serious illness was noted in last issue of the Record, died at the home of her son, Mr. R. H. Batson, in this city Friday afternoon at five o'clock. She had been in poor health for some months, and for the past few weeks was quite ill. Mrs. Waits had been a resident of Lancaster for a number of years, and her kindness of heart, sweet Christian spirit and many deeds of charity had won a warm spot in the hearts of all who knew her. Many were the times she helped someone in need and distress, but she never told anyone of her deeds, and when it was known that she had assisted anyone it was from the fact that the recipient of the favor told it. She was a member of the Christian church, and lived up to the teachings of the bible, in every particular. To live a life as that of Mrs. Waits, insures, beyond all doubt, that rich reward in Heaven of which we read in the Blessed Book and hear set forth by the ministers several times a week. She leaves two sons, R. H. Batson, of this city, and Dr. J. D. Batson, of the Indian Territory. Mrs. Waits was in her seventy-ninth year, and was twice married. Eld. F. M. Tindler conducted funeral services at the Christian church Sunday afternoon and the remains were laid to rest in the Lancaster Cemetery.

SNAKE'S EXCITING TRIP.

Large Rattler, Taken From Its Winter Quarters, Causes Excitement on Train and in Cincinnati Hotel.

Last Monday, Mayor Robert Kinnauld, of this city, a well-known Kentucky Central Railroad engineer and the proprietor and chief clerk of the Palace Hotel, Cincinnati, had an experience which will not soon forget. Mayor Kinnauld had business in the Queen City and left on the five o'clock train for that point. All went well until near Winchester, when the quick application of the emergency air brake stopped the train and almost threw the passengers from the seats. Many rushed to the doors to ascertain the cause and saw Engineer John M. Clark clambering over the tender of the engine chasing and striking at a large rattlesnake with the coal pick. Conductor C. S. Grove and others rushed forward to lend assistance and the reptile ran over back of tender and into the end door of baggage car which the excited baggage man had left open.

By this time, all the crew and many passengers were greatly excited and every door of the train was wide open. Many struck at the snake, but many more took to their heels and gave it a wide berth. On it ran through baggage, mail, express, jim-crow and into the smoking car. As all the occupants had quickly deserted the smoker, his snakeship was lost sight of and all believed it had gone on the platform and fallen off the high trestle at that point of the railroad. Where a snake could come from on as cold a day as last Monday, was a puzzling question, but this was explained by Engineer Clark, who had pulled out a box of old, summer overalls and jackets he had left, last Fall, in the company's tool house at Stanford, the end of the run. A great many rattlers have been killed in that vicinity, and the explanation is that this snake crawled into Mr. Clark's box of clothing before cold weather, there to make its winter home. He decided, Monday, to take the box home and sat it on the boiler in his engine cab. The intense heat soon resurrected the reptile from its winter trance, in fact its quarters became so hot that it was forced to vacate, so worked its way out and fell to the floor of the engine cab.

As stated above, Mayor Kinnauld was a passenger in the smoking car, and, under the seat had placed a basket of rabbits and quail he was taking to his friend, Mr. Walter Maxwell, Manager of the Palace Hotel, Cincinnati.

Arriving at this popular hostelry, he set the basket on the desk, registered and engaged in conversation with Chief Clerk Woodrow. Possibly twenty minutes time elapsed when, without the slightest warning, the snake ran out of the basket, coiled up on the counter and hissed defiantly at Mayor Kinnauld, Clerk Woodrow and the several guests near the desk. After surveying the crowd, the snake made a spring at "Tige," the large Maltese cat that loafed around the hotel office. Fortunately for "Tige," the snake's aim was bad and it landed on the tile floor. By this time, Proprietor Maxwell, all the bell boys and other employees were armed with mops, brooms, etc., to give battle. The snake ran into the washroom and on into the bar. The crowd who had "lined up" in this department for their "morning's morning," had evidently been pretty full the night before, as they tore the street door from its hinges in their hasty exit. The snake stopped and coiled immediately in front of the bar, and licked its forked tongue as if asking the bar-keeper for an eye-opener.

As all hands stampeded, Mr. Maxwell had about reached the conclusion that he would have to turn the "house" over to the new and unwelcome visitor, but happened to think of a landing net he was preparing to take on his Florida fishing trip, and which was lying handy. Creeping up behind the bar counter, he cautiously peeped down on the other side and dropped the net over the coiled reptile. Clerk Woodrow, like the other spectators to the exciting incident, now grew very game, so, rushing up, dealt a blow with a billiard cue which killed the snake outright. It was sent to a taxidermist and, when mounted, will decorate a wall in the office of the Palace.

Deserved Compliments.

At the final meeting of the Kentucky Worlds Fair Commission, held in Louisville Saturday night, the accounts showed a surplus of $2,800 to be turned back into the State Treasury, beside property valued at over $7,000. A banquet was given in honor of the president of the Commission, Mr. Arthur Y. Ford, who was also presented with a handsome chest of silver by his associates. Our former townman, Mr. R. E. Hughes, secretary of the Commission, came in for much praise for his splendid work. Mr. Hughes acted as toastmaster, and the Louisville papers say many nice things of his work as such. When "Time" was called, Bob said, in part: "This is an hour I have longed for. At last the servant is master. For fifteen months the directors of the old association bossed me, and then the commissioners undertook the job. Under both regimes the superintendents of the exhibits gave me orders galore to boot. Well the tables are turned—it is a natural thing at a dinner; I have locked the door so no guilty man may escape, and the whip cracking is on."

AGREE THAT IT IS NEEDED

Record's Article on General Revival in Church Work Highly Complimented and Its Suggestions Endorsed.

The Central Record has never received so many compliments on any of its humble efforts as were passed upon our article, in our last issue, referring to the lack of genuine Christianity and the practice of sinful acts by some church members during the daily walks of life. The only adverse criticism came from men who always take the opposite view of every step for betterment, and some of those who are deep in sin and know that if they were to turn from the evil of their way they would be forced to give up things which now put dollars in their pockets. But this is the case in every town, and we are sure there are more genuine Christians than hardened sinners in Lancaster. What the church people in those towns holding the big revivals are doing is the bringing out of church members, "smoking them out," and making them show, "by their works" what they are. The result has been that men who have never done one thing for the cause of Christ have come to the front and apply their religion to their every day walks of life. If you will only send for a copy of last Friday's Danville News (you can have one by writing to the editors of the News) and see what has been done there, read the public statements from prominent business men who heretofore have been of the Sunday-only class, you will see how much good has been accomplished and how the ministers and genuine Christians are encouraged by the conversion and placing into service of heretofore hypocrites and wolves in sheep's clothing who have paraded as church members. This can be done in Lancaster, not by any hurrah or exciting protracted meetings, but by the quiet, earnest work such is being done in Louisville and other Kentucky towns. If any person will tell The Record of anything Lancaster needs more than an awakening in religious matters, we will cheerfully drop this subject and advocate his suggestion.

The money for school teachers has been delayed. Due notice will be given, through The Record, when it is received.

CENTRAL RECORD.

Issued Weekly, $1.00 per Year.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Entered at the Post Office in Lancaster, Ky., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

Lancaster, Ky., February 10, 1905

It is said an Oklahoma girl on being kissed fainted. A real example of the saying, "overcome with joy," we presume.

The extra session of the Legislature will cost almost enough to build a new capitol. For dilly-dallying, this session takes the cake.

That Chicago man who is taking care of a wife and nineteen children on nine dollars a week is evidently an old country newspaper man, or acquired his skill as a financier in a country newspaper office.

Pittsburg Phil, the noted bettor on horses, died last week. He placed his last wad of coin against that "sure thing," Death, and is now the loser to so great an extent that he will not kick on his ill-luck.

A New York man was accused by his wife of loving another woman. To show that he did not he went out and killed the woman. Which really proved that he loved neither his wife nor the woman he killed.

The people of Frankfort, instead of stepping out of the matter when they won their light to keep the seat of government in that city, continue to butt in and tell the Legislature where it must be placed. In fact, it appears that they think they have a deed to the whole matter.

A lady at Atlanta, Ga., had her month so badly frozen during a severe blizzard, through which she was traveling, that she could not close it. Had it required blizzards to bring about all the feminine mouths in this fix today, the whole world would have been frozen out some time ago.

Editor Jim Allen, of the Cynthiana Democrat, failed to send us a copy of his good paper for three consecutive weeks. Last issue reached our desk, however, and we find it in a new dress, not a decollete (we believe that's it, Jim) evening dress with the top bobbed off nor a rainy-day dress with a foot or so of the tail shaved away, but a handsome, stylish garment which "comes" from head to foot, and The Record extends heartfelt congratulations to its good friend upon this evidence of prosperity.

Editor Heber Matthews, of the Hartford Herald, truthfully says:— There is no reason why, in this broad land of freedom, that a man should not be, politically and otherwise, just what he wants to be. If you want to be a Democrat, a Republican, a Prohibitionist, a Socialist, or any other creed worshipping devotee, be it. But above all, be a gentleman and an honest man under all circumstances. Express your sentiments freely, but respectfully, and always accord to your opponent that measure of regard and deference for his personal views which you expect yourself. Bigotry is a very demoralizing personal attribute. It tends to absolute anarchy. Cherishing this impulse, we deny the right of anybody to entertain views at variance with our own. Freedom of thought, freedom of speech and freedom of action are the prime rights of an American citizen when properly indulged.

The report is sent out from New York that more than 100,000 men in that city are without work. With such a jam of people, this is not to be wondered at. If these men want work, let them come out in the country where farmers need them and will pay living wages, too. They will also have better health, get pure food, breathe pure atmosphere, be with better people, and, beyond all doubt live purer and better lives. While wages will not be so high as in the great city, yet reduced expenses more than offset this. The idle men have none but themselves to blame, and if they will overcome their desire to crowd, like sardines, in the city, and come out to the country and work on the farms, in the shops, on the railroads, or in any of the many vocations the country offers, they will live longer, accomplish more good and be happier. But the rapid pace of city life is attractive and hard to keep away from, so we are told.

H. A. B. Marksbury & Son.

News has just reached here of the death of Milton Smith at his home in Ft Worth, Texas. His father, John Smith died in November last. His step-mother, Mrs Cillie Smith, who has just gotten up from a severe spell of fever, has the sympathy of the entire community. This makes three of the family that have died in the last year.

Mr Champ Shumate, of Paint Lick, died Feb. 1st, 1905. He was born on the Ben Slavin place in this, Garrard county, Sept. 2nd, 1825, and was therefore in his eightieth year. He lived on the place where he was born until his marriage after which he moved to Rockcastle county. After some years he moved back to his old home, the Slavin place, on Frog Branch creek.
His first wife, who was Martha McClary having died, he married the second time, Lizzie Yeakey, who survives him. He leaves three children, all of whom were by his first marriage.
Shortly after his second marriage, about 22 years ago, he sold his farm and moved to Paint Lick and engaged in merchandising. After seven years he gave up the business and retired to the comfortable home where he spent the remainder of his days.

For thirty years he was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church at Manse. Of recent years he has been unable to attend church which he delighted to do when he was able. He was a modest, unassuming man of good christian character, quiet and unpretending in his manner. He was a man of strong convictions and a firm and faithful friend. Most of his life was spent in Paint Lick, where he had many friends and acquaintances. He leaves three children, a widow and a host of friends to mourn his loss.
Everything was done for him that kind friends could do but, for many years, he had been afflicted with kidney disease, which in the end caused his death. Revs D E Frierson and C S Young conducted funeral services at his home in the presence of a large and sympathizing crowd. His remains were laid to rest in the Paint Lick Cemetery.

One of the saddest deaths which has occurred in our midst for some time was that of Mrs Esilda Naylor, at her home Saturday morning at half past eight. It was a shock to every one, especially family and close neighbors and they did not think she was dangerously ill. She had been sick only a short while of consumption.
She leaves one daughter, Mrs John Lane and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her death. She was a christian woman and a member of the Mt Hebron church. The remains were laid to rest at Mt Hebron at one o'clock Sunday evening. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Breaking The Ice.
A maiden, both pretty and nice, Took a quiet young man on the ice, So bashful were they Not a word did they say, Till the maid fell—and that broke the ice!

The points about a man that most attract a woman are his neckwear and his hands.

Here lies a girl named Mollie Sand, Who breathed her dying breath—She wore good clothes in her home town And they rubbed her to death.
—Detroit Tribune.

It is easy for a woman to assume a faraway look and still notice the men around her.

She stood with a stone paperweight And soaked him three times on the plight:
"It is just striking three, My dear hubby," said she,
"Did you know it was getting so light?"
—Houston Post.

New Collector of Revenue.

ceed Mr. Denton as collector of In-

Destroyed The Liquor.

Danville Advocate:—Sheriff McDowell played the game of "Carrie Nation" yesterday morning in the back yard of the court house, and when it was over about three dozen bottles and a dozen jugs of whiskey and several "dope" boxes were smashed into smithereens. The affair was witnessed by a number of court house officials and their friends. The stuff destroyed comprised the barroom-on-wheels which was captured Tuesday evening by Sheriff McDowell and Chief Police Wood from "Less" Gregory and George Hays. One "cullud gemen" who claims to be a lover of this favorite snake medicine, started to witness the smash up but was obliged to turn away, and as he did so expressed himself thus: "It is a sin to waste that gud stuff dis sort of weather; I aint got de heart to see it done."

Bill's Troubles.

"Bill had a bill board, Bill had a board bill. The board bill bored Bill so that he sold the bill-board to pay his board bill. Now this seemed too bad for Bill. You see Bill owed for the bill-board he owned, therefore he had no right to sell the bill-board that he owned, or had not have owned had he owed the board bill until he had paid for board bill; his bill-board would have soon paid his board bill.
Or, again, if he had owned the billboard he owed for he could have raised the money on it to pay the board bill he owned he owed. But as he owed for the bill board he owned, and owned that he owed the board bill, we pass it on; its up to Bill.

In Memoriam.

On Saturday morning, Jan. 28th William Todd was called away to a better world than this. He died at the home of his mother, Mrs. C. G.
Todd, in Lancaster. He was 26 years old. After five months illness he fell asleep in Jesus and went to rest. He said that he was ready to go at any time. He joined the church Thanksgiving day and was baptized. He was the third child in 26 months that has been called away from the dear mother who has been so faithful to wait on them. He was the only child with her. She tenders many thanks to her friends who helped her in her trouble. She and one brother are left

Telephones and Temper.

Eighty thousand telephones are at work in London to-day, and their possibilities for annoyance to the testy subscribers are immense, says The World's Work and Play. We can imagine a man who dare not use the telephone for fear of losing his temper. The telephone shares with other things the opprobrium that attaches to the imperfect. There are few things in the daily life of the business man that extracts the extreme praise of "perfect." His train is often late. His American mail often fails. He cannot depend upon his electric light. His most valued subordinates are sometimes ill—and no valued subordinate ought ever to be ill or unavailable. And so on. The telephone is no exception. It is mightyly convenient when it is in form; when it is stupid, it is stupid to the last degree of hopelessness. In your disappointment you ignore all claims of gratitude the telephone has upon you for previous services, and you recover and put the two in the scale you find that the good behavior far more than balances the bad behavior of the telephone. The scale bumps down heavily on the side of an indispensable aid to modern life.

The "What" Answer.

"Why do you stand in this one place?" asked the department store attaché.
"I am watching these people at the bargain counter getting their change. I never before realized what frenzied finance meant."—Washington Star.

He Tried to Get Even.

Gay Fawkes had tried to blow up the houses of parliament.
"The janitor wouldn't give any heat," he said in his defense.
Yet the English sacrificed the noble martyr.—N. Y. Sun.

Inappropriate.

Wife—Shall I put your diamond studs in your shirt, dear?
Husband—What on earth are you thinking of? Do you want to ruin me?
I have a meeting of my creditors this morning.—Tit-Bits.

Transferred.

She removed her hat at the theater, Though she was discolored;
But thought the hat was off her head It still was on her mind.

PROMINENT NEGRO TRAIT.
Their Love of Music is Manifested in All of Their Daily Avocations.
"Marvel as you will at the negro's penchant for music, it stands out as the most pronounced trait of the race," said Representative Williams, of Mississippi, to a Washington Star man. "They love harmony of sound. It is innate with them. They excel in music, although it is not developed in its higher phases, because they draw from the most ordinary surroundings. A negro woodchopper, a roustabout, a rail splitter, will inject the idea of music, the harmony of sounds, into his work. Show me a bookkeeper or bank cashier who ever juggles figures in a manner to make them suggest music, and I'll show you a model of Gabriel's horn."
"The conclusion is forced that the cold, intensely practical affairs of the up-to-date business man exclude all sentimental feelings. The banker goes to the opera when he desires music. The broker hears only the monotonous ticking of the telegraph instrument. The bank clerk is abjured to work silently. If he whistles or sings in the counting-room he is corrected, if not dismissed."
"Noting the difference. The negro splitting rails in the woods mingles his voice in a well-blended manner with the noise made by the maul. The swing of his voice matches the swing of the maul, and falls with greatest force just when the wedge is struck. The steamboat rouser hauls in a line with a sort of rhythm that suggests music, chanting the while. So it is with these fellows. Watch them tamping the asphalt with those heavy irons. Observe the precision of their movements. Catch the sounds as the heavy weights fall. If the ear is properly attuned you will hear the music of the sound and also the rhythm of the movements. Out of this simple manual labor those negroes get as much music as an ordinary drum corps would produce."
"A few days ago I had my shoes polished in Natchez. I was surprised to catch the strains of 'There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town To-night' from the swish of the cloth the negro was using, and I discovered that he could faintly produce several other simple airs. In a barber shop a negro boy used a whisk broom on my clothes, and the first thing I knew he was fairly sweeping music off my shoulders. Watch for such demonstrations if you do not believe the correctness of the instances I have given. You will soon be convinced."

Tears and Fears

Go together with many women who are approaching the first experience of maternity. The husband finds it hard perhaps to understand the changing moods of his wife. Indeed she cannot understand herself. She only knows that she is nervous, restless and anxious. A great change has come over her which she cannot understand or explain.
Women do not always reflect that at this crisis they are living for two instead of one; that they need health and strength for two. The need for increased health and strength by the prospective mother is perfectly met and satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It tranquilizes the nerves, promotes the appetite and gives refreshing sleep. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives the mother strength to give her child.
"I have before written you of the great benefit both myself and family have received from your excellent medicine," says Mrs. P. S. Peterson, of Welles, Wis. "I have since tested its wonderful powers in the case of the coming of my fifth child. Took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery' the first two months and a third of 'Favorite Prescription' the last two months. It saved me so much terrible suffering that I consider it a heavenly blessing." Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

Give Your Stomach a Rest.

Your food must be properly digested and assimilated to be of any value to you. If your stomach is weak or diseased take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest, enabling it to recuperate, take on new life and grow strong again. Kodol cures sour stomach, gas, bloating, heart palpitation and all digestive disorders. L. A. Soper, of Little Rock, Ky., writes us: "We feel that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure deserves all the commendation that can be given it, as it saved the life of our little girl when she was three years old. She is now six and we have kept it for her constantly, but of course she only takes it now when anything disagrees with her." Sold by R E McRoberts, Lancaster Ky. 1m soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, allays the feverish conditions, stops the cough and prevents serious results from a cold.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

Is the only prominent cough medicine on the market that does not contain opiates or harmful drugs of any kind and on this account is safe for children. It is unexcelled for Croup and Whooping Cough and will quickly cure the racking cough which follows measles and leaves so many children with weak lungs unless properly treated. Remember the name—Foley's Honey and Tar—and refuse substitutes that cost you the same as the genuine. Do not take chances with some unknown preparation.

Consumption Threatened.

C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champlagn, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and I was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar; it cured me, and I have not been troubled since."

Three sizes—25c, 50c, $1.00.
The 50 cent size contains two and one-half times as much as the small size and the $1.00 bottle almost six times as much.
